

NACWA MEMBERSHIP | ADVOCACY. UNITY. VALUE.

The National Association of Clean Water Agencies (NACWA) wants what you want: a clean water utility that is thriving, innovative and engaged with the community. But as the clean water landscape evolves, truly achieving that goal requires connecting to a nationwide peer network of small, mid-sized and large public utility leaders, and staying current with as well as shaping national policy developments. NACWA membership can be your most valuable resource because:

NACWA STANDS FOR ADVOCACY

- Your Voice - NACWA serves as the voice of the nation's public clean water utilities on national and regional legislative, regulatory and legal issues - making sure your utility's perspective is heard in Washington, DC and around the country.
- Influence - Don't just watch as legislative, regulatory and legal forces impact your utility and community, influence them as part of the only national advocacy organization for public clean water agencies.
- Analysis - NACWA cuts through all the noise to provide you with clear and concise analysis of the legislative, regulatory and legal developments and trends that will impact your utility.

NACWA STANDS FOR UNITY

- Nationwide Network and Collaboration - Events, meetings and online platforms - such as NACWA's Engage® Forum and Executive Utility Peer-to-Peer Network - keep you connected with utilities in your region, and from coast to coast, to share valuable resources, information and ideas.
- Communication - Tell your story. Discover others. NACWA's comprehensive communication platform provides a venue for your utility to join others in telling your (and the nation's) clean water success stories.

NACWA STANDS FOR VALUE

- Agency-Inclusive Membership - Once a member, all your utility staff can access NACWA resources and benefits—whether your staff is 5 or 2,500 people.
- Exclusive Resources - High-value information and publications - such as our Congressional Toolbox, Legal/Consent Decree resources, Financial Survey, and annual Service Charge Index - allow you to benchmark your utility and make more informed decisions.
- Support - National staff and a utility leader brain trust with a wealth of experience provide the support your utility needs to tackle your unique challenges.

GIVE MEMBERSHIP A LOOK! NACWA IS ADVOCACY, UNITY, AND VALUE.

As the only clean water association governed solely by public utilities, NACWA truly stands for you. We keep you informed and connected with the nationwide public clean water sector. It's time to join your utility peers.

For more information contact Kelly Brocato, Director of Membership (kbrocato@nacwa.org) or visit www.NACWA.org/membership.

NACWA STANDS FOR ADVOCACY

---

Regulations, court decisions, legislation, and more: For utility leaders and professionals, clean water policy is difficult to follow, much less influence. Yet the effects are felt powerfully — sometimes painfully — by everyone whenever new developments emerge. Most will only be able to react and accept the federal, state and local forces that impact ratepayers and the bottom line. What about you?

It's time to take control.

We don't have to sit by passively as policy decisions impact our utilities. Across the country, major issues are developing and shifting. We are moving the needle on them. And so can you.

For five decades, the National Association of Clean Water Agencies (NACWA) has been the nation's recognized leader in clean water issue advocacy. It's time to join the nationwide network and have an active role in the forces that directly shape your decisions.

We keep you connected and proactive.
It's time to find and collaborate with your peers.

---

Give us a look.

MEMBERSHIP MEANS ADVOCACY.

For information about membership, contact Kelly Brocato at kbrocato@nacwa.org

WWW.NACWA.ORG/MEMBERSHIP